Consultations

There are currently two consultations in progress, a budget consultation, and the libraries consultation.

Flooding

During the recent storms 24 areas across Suffolk were highlighted as being affected by flooding, Hundon, Clare and Cavendish were highlighted as being the worst affected areas.

On Wednesday, Communities Secretary Michael Gove and Environment Secretary Thérèse Coffey announced a number of financial measures to support those who have experienced exceptional localised flooding.

Under the measures announced:

- Flooded households in affected areas can apply for up to £500 to give cash quickly to help with immediate costs.

- Households and businesses significantly affected by recent flooding will be eligible for 100% council tax and business rates relief for at least three months.
- Small-to-medium-sized businesses in affected areas will be eligible for up to £2,500 from the Business Recovery Grant to help them return quickly to business as usual.
- Eligible flood-hit property owners will be able to apply for up to £5,000 to help make their homes and businesses more resilient to future flooding via the Property Flood Resilience Repair Grant Scheme.

The support will be made available through a scheme known as the Flood Recovery Framework, which is used in exceptional circumstances to support councils and communities following severe flooding.

The full details of the scheme are yet to be announced by the Government, including where residents can apply and who is eligible. Suffolk County Council will share updates once received.

To report a flood visit the report a flood in Suffolk page. Alternatively, you can call the customer service number on 0345 606 6171.

HUNDON SPORTS ASSOCIATION “THE ASTRO”

There has been an increase lately of youngsters who are not entitled to be using the astro climbing the fences and gate or attempting to reach through and use the gate release button on the inside. This is extremely dangerous as the fences are not designed for climbing on. They are high and flimsy at the top and a fall could result in serious injury.

We are required to take measures to prevent climbing in this area and to that end an anti-climb paint has been re-applied to the perimeter fencing and gate above the level of normal reach and to areas where they may try to reach through. People will only come into contact with the paint if they are attempting to gain unauthorised access. This substance is not harmful to skin although it is hard to get it off and it will ruin clothes.

For those with youngsters of an age where they play out unsupervised can I ask that you speak to them and encourage them not to climb the astro fencing or gate.

It is possible to have a family membership of the Astro which costs £65 a year and allows use of the pitch at any times where it is not block booked for group activities. For further details please contact me on stewartalderman.sa@gmail.com.

We are not able to offer casual ad hoc use of the astro as it is simply not practical to administer this.

THE RECTOR'S RAMBLINGS:
"Peace in an unpeaceful world"
– December 2023

For most of us, Christmas is a time of year that is often associated with peace, joy, and goodwill. However, in a world that is all too often filled with conflict and strife, it can be difficult to find true peace. As a Christians, we believe that the true meaning of peace can only be found in Jesus Christ.

Peace is often defined as the absence of conflict or war. However, true peace is much more than just the absence of violence. It is a state of tranquillity and contentment that comes from a deep sense of inner harmony.

Jesus is called the Prince of Peace. And at that very first Christmas, He came to earth to reconcile us to God and to each other. Through His life, death, and resurrection, Jesus has broken down the walls of division and separation that we have built between ourselves and God.

The peace of Christ is a gift that is available to all who believe in Him. It is within that personal relationship that we are able to experience the peace of God in our lives. This peace will not always be easy to find, but it is always worth seeking.

But how can we promote peace in our world? Well firstly we need to start closer to home, by finding peace in our own hearts. We can do this by spending time in prayer and worship, reading the Bible, and fellowshiping with other believers. We can also promote peace by being peacemakers in our relationships with others. We can do this by being forgiving, kind, and patient. Finally, we can pray for peace in our world. We can pray for the leaders of our nations, for the victims of war and violence, and for all people who are seeking peace.

Christmas is a time to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace. As we celebrate this special time of year, let us remember the true meaning of peace and let us strive to experience this peace in our own lives and in our world.

Here are my final thoughts on the true meaning of peace at Christmas:

- Peace is not the absence of conflict, but the presence of God.
- Peace is not a feeling, but a state of being. Peace is not something that we can achieve on our own, but something that we receive from God.

May you have a Merry Christmas and a peaceful New Year! And I hope to see you at one of our Christmas Services across the benefice.

Hundon Allotment Field Update

Allotment holders continue to tidy up their allotments for the winter. Hopefully most managed to get their garlic, onions, and autumn pea and bean sowing done, despite the weather.

HATA AGM

This was held on 13th November and attended by the whole committee and a number of allotment holders. As well as updating everyone on activities during the last year, a number of specific issues were raised and discussed:

Gate: The gate at the main entrance to the allotment field has now been broken for over 2 years. We have yet to have confirmation from the Rogeron Trust as to when they expect this situation to be resolved. Allotment holders remain concerned about strangers being able to drive onto the field, and HATA have delayed a number of improvement projects for the same reason.

Dogs: Dogs running loose and causing damage on allotments, such as disturbing new onion plantings, continues to be an issue, as does owners failing to pick up dog poo. HATA are going to contact Suffolk County Council for advice on what action we may be able to take. In the meantime, we would once again make a plea to all dog walkers to keep their dogs under control and in sight at all times.

Orchard Pruning Demonstration

Please join us for a practical pruning demonstration under the guidance of an experienced professional gardener on Saturday 6th January at 10.30am in the community orchard.

Please bring your secateurs, and we will learn as we prune the orchard for the first time.

HUNDON GARDENING CLUB NEWSLETTER DECEMBER 2023

Thursday 16 November - "A welcome return to Geoff Hodge to talk to us about Pruning", well that's what we were expecting, but Geoff had other ideas! He'd had a very busy week giving a talk every night, finally coming to us and instead of checking his emails he came to us prepared to talk about Propagation, well it began with a 'P' but that's all!! Never mind, we all learnt a lot, enjoyed an entertaining evening, a lot of laughs, recommendation for a really good and up-to-date book on Propagation Techniques, so we left the meeting replete and eager to experiment with growing plants for nothing.

Clare Horticultural Society - Thursday 30 November - Talk by Judy Cameron-Rollo on The Fascinating Reproductive Life of Plants 7 pm at the Old School, Clare, followed by a raffle and refreshments. £2 for members and £3 for visitors.

There will be no meeting in December.

Where has the Club's year gone? Not quite over, we still have our contribution to the annual Church Christmas Tree Festival. Our contribution is Jack and the Beanstalk, what else for a Gardening Club?

Our next meeting is our AGM and Social on Thursday 18th January, 7.30 at the Village Hall.

HUNDON WINE CLUB

At our October meeting Charles Eaton of Nethergate Wines brought along 10 wines from his cellar for our delectation – Ten! A jolly night was had by all running through many styles of wine production from a sparkling Crémant de Bourgogne to a dry Loire Sauvignon Blanc. An Italian Luganda Le Formaci then a 1er Cru Burgundy ended the whites.

We started off the reds with a comparison of Bordeaux grapes with a 2013 Pessac-Leognan up against a wine from Stellenbosch in South Africa. A Rhône red, Gigondas, an Italian Primitivo and another Bordeaux. Finally a sweet dessert wine rounded off our tasting. A light, cheese, meats and pâté supper delightfully prepared by Corrine and Paul assisted in the finishing off of the remaining wines.

All this on top of nine intrepid members eating and drinking our way around Portugal. We flew to Porto for our first port of call, partaking in a Port tasting at Ferreira – a Port lodge owned by the family of Luis, a great friend of one of our members and our unofficial guide for the trip.

Later that day, we visited the port museum also run by another family member of Luis. That evening dinner was in a panoramic restaurant overlooking the town and river which could occasionally be glimpsed through the sheeting rain.

We then took a beautiful two hour train journey through the Douro hills which we made our base for 2 days, visiting a traditional winery run of course, by a cousin of Luis. He has a long familial association with the aristocracy of the region, and was a true gentleman throughout. We returned to Porto for our last day taking in some sightseeing and a drawn out lunch at Graham's Port Quinta across the river in Vila Nova de Gaia.

A wonderful few days of excellent food, sights and exceptional wine tastings.

Our gratitude to Luis, and especially to Marilyn McCormack who organised the whole trip.

On 30th November we will have James Aldridge from Corney and Barrow in Newmarket showcasing wines for Christmas. James, and the merchant, are great favourites of the club.

Then on 8th December the club will be enjoying our Christmas dinner at the Pop- up restaurant in Assington Green.

If you are interested in taking part, please don't hesitate to contact us.

WI MEETING 9TH NOVEMBER

We were promised an evening of humour and burlesque and that is exactly what we got!! We were entertained from start to finish.

You would have thought that the arrival of Ms Cherry Bombe and Ivy Devine, in their exquisite burlesque attire, might have caused a bit of a stir, but the Hundon WI Ladies were not shocked in the least. In fact, they were rather in awe of the dancers, and one even asked where they could purchase a corset!!

Firstly Lindsey, aka Ms Cherry Bombe, who is a WI President in Chelmsford, gave an account of how her life had changed over the last 10 years. With her children no longer needing to be ferried about, she suddenly found herself at a loose end. To fill her time, she enrolled in some craft classes, including dress making whereby she has ended up with 6 sewing machines and 72 boxes of craft materials! She also tried salsa dancing and burlesque, all the while hoping to make some friends. Then she read that a new WI was opening, and thought that the WI would surely be friendly, so decided to give that a go.

Over 300 ladies went along to the first meeting of the new WI, which was held in Chelmsford Cathedral. Sub-groups such as a book club, wine club, walking group, etc. were soon formed. Lindsey somehow managed to put herself forward to start a Burlesque troupe, called the Bombshells, which is still going strong today. By attending events and giving talks, they have raised thousands of pounds for various charities over the years. She later formed another burlesque troupe in Canvey Island, which also raises money for charities.

From the references to her northern upbringing to the comical connotations and innuendos, her story was hilarious, but also heartwarming and inspirational.

The evening couldn't end of course until Ms Cherry Bombe & Ivy Devine had taken to the dance floor and given us a twirl. They performed two dances before asking if anyone would like to join them for a shimmy at which point the hall suddenly went very quiet. Alas no one rushed to their feet despite much encouragement. Perhaps all you need is a different name and a corset before taking that first step!!

CHRISTMAS AT THE CASTLE

One of the Park's most striking features is the 62 foot high Norman motte that formed part of Clare Castle. The Castle was at its heyday in the 14th century, when it was the principal home of Elizabeth de Burgh, Lady of Clare. Granddaughter of King Edward I and niece of Edward II, Elizabeth had been widowed three times by the age of 26 and lived a good proportion of her remaining 38 years at Clare Castle. Immensely rich, she was an influential patron of the arts and books and a generous benefactor, endowing Clare College Cambridge and Clare Priory, among other establishments.

So what would Christmas at the Castle have been like for Elizabeth and her household?

It would have begun on the night of Christmas Eve and lasted until Twelfth Night on 6 January: there were no Christmas ads in October in medieval times. The Great Hall in the Castle's inner bailey would have been festooned with holly and ivy and warmed by a tree trunk (the "yule log") burning for the 12 days of Christmas. Fresh rushes would have been laid on the floor. Most food was eaten with fingers, but Elizabeth's table would have been set with knives, spoons (there were no forks for another 200 years) and thick slices of stale bread as plates for the meat.

The aristocracy might exchange fine clothes and jewellery on Christmas Day and New Year's Day, but the big event was the Christmas Day feast. Nut roast would not have been on the menu. Instead the feast provided a rare opportunity for the poor to eat meat and a less rare opportunity for the rich to show off, with delicacies such as boar's heads on a platter and a swan or peacock roasted in its feathers.

As one of England's wealthiest women, Elizabeth's kitchen accounts for Christmas Day 1326 show that her household consumed 3 swans, 2 herons, 2 bittern, 2 egret, 6 capons and 18 doves and woodcock, as well as 2 heads of boar, a stag, 5 deer and numerous other animals including pigs, sheep, calves, piglets, geese, hens, pullets and partridge.

The swans and doves would have been reserved for the VIP guests along with the 34 gallons of wine, but lower status guests and members of the household would have eaten and drunk well and the castle servants would have enjoyed goose, chicken and ale. Leftovers were given to the paupers who waited outside for offal and anything else going spare. (Offal was known as the "umbles" in medieval times, hence the term "eating umble pie".)

Turkey was not on the menu as Europeans were yet to discover the Americas, nor would they have tucked into a tin of Roses after dinner, as chocolate was unknown in England until the 1600s.

The household would have enjoyed dancing to music from pipes, flutes, lutes and drums, along with drinking and general merry making. On a cold day the moat and fish ponds would have provided the opportunity for skating, using skates made from the shin bones of horses.

Today we can only imagine the sounds, smells and revelry of those great Christmas feasts. However, Elizabeth's legacy lives on in the institutions she endowed and in the remnants of her former home. Standing at the top of the motte in midwinter, with the moat and medieval Clare spread out below, it isn't hard to conjure up echoes of those long ago pipes and to imagine Christmas at the Castle, medieval style.
